Thanks to our extensive knowledge, we supply replacement parts compatible with most brands of reclining chairs and reclining sofas. We work closely with the manufactures of lift chairs and sofas, so that we know the parts used during the manufacturing process and we define the best and most reliable to be sold for accurate and longlasting repairs. For this reason, we rely on a European warehouse, from which most of the parts are shipped the next working day after your payment. The express tracked service shipment for all of Europe and the UK delivers your order within 35 days. Extra EU shipment is usually completed within 1015 days. We also offer extended service coverage options of up 2 or 3 years, all for a nominal cost to you. For just an additional charge, we can increase the duration of our 1year inhome service warranty to cover a 2 year period, or you can opt to pay slightly more for 3 years of coverage. Pricing subject to change. If your inhome coverage through US Medical Supplies has already lapsed and you require service or parts, you may still be covered by the manufacturers warranty, which is included in the sale price and often covers parts for over a year. <http://mercuresamuichaweng.com/admin/bowens-prolite-100-manual.xml>

Troubleshooting If your lift chair is not operating properly, take the following steps before calling for service.

1. Make sure that everything is plugged in properly and that there is power running to the relevant outlet in your home.
2. If you have a dual motor lift chair and it does not respond when you press a button on the hand control, the motors may be out of sync. The process for resyncing motors differs between various lift chair models and manufacturers; consult your owners manual for the proper procedure.
3. If the lift chair only operates in one direction, check the up and down buttons and toggle switch on your hand control to make sure a button or switch hasnt become stuck. The control may need to be replaced.
4. If the lift chair ceases to work in the middle of a lift cycle, a thermal shutoff may have been activated due to elevated temperature in the motor box. Allow the chair to remain stationary for ten minutes and let the motor cool off, then retry the lift mechanism. Frequent overheating may be symptomatic of a greater problem; if this occurs often, contact us or the manufacturer of your lift chair.
5. If the heat and massage units are not functioning properly, use your owners manual as a reference to first check that the power cords are all connected properly, and that the heat and massage device is properly connected to the chair. Also ensure that the hand control for the heat and massage unit is properly connected and that the LED light displays on the hand control are lit up. If the LEDs are not on, or if none of these solutions fix your problem, contact us or the manufacturer of your lift chair.<http://www.energymebel.ru/userfiles/bower-500mm-manual-telephoto-lens.xml>

Lift Chair Parts hand control Corded pushbutton remotes that operate the chairs lifting and reclining mechanisms. If your lift chair is equipped with a heat and massage unit, it may have two separate hand controls one for adjusting the chair and one for controlling the heat and vibration. Some hand controls are designed to disconnect with the push of a button, cutting off communication between the control and the chair in the event of a malfunction. Disconnecting the hand control is also a good safety precaution if small children are visiting. This should always be placed in an open, wellventilated area or mounted to the wall. A battery backup option may be available; the backup is usually powered by 9volt batteries and allows the chair to operate long enough to stand or sit in the event of a power outage. If you unplug your lift recliner, you should also remove the batteries, because the chair will begin to draw battery power if the main power supply ceases to function. Always make sure that no small children or pets are near the lift chair before activating the reclining scissor mechanisms. lift mechanisms These respond to the hand control commands issued by the user to move the chair into a sitting or standing position. Always make sure that no small children or pets are near the lift chair before activating the lift mechanisms. leg levelers These components keep your liftchair level and stable. High pile carpets may interfere with the footrest, so its a good idea to raise the chair until the footrest is clear of the floor. Users can alter the frequency and intensity of the vibrations to create the desired method of massage. Looking for lift chair reviews. We publish lift chair reviews written by both customers and staff members that can give you additional insight on how well a chair is suited to your needs, and how much maintenance it will require.

Simply find a lift chair that interests you and scroll to the bottom of that product page to read the lift chair reviews for that product. Created with Sketch. It has Standard Straight Round 5 Pin Connector. 3 Foot Cord. This control replaces Dewert and Pride Hand Controls also. This is the style you will find on many Golden Technologies Lift Chairs, Pride Lift Chairs, Okin, Dewert, La Z Boy, Best, Berkline, Franklin, Action, MedLift, and other numerous other brands. A bad hand control is the most common lift chair problem and this takes care of it. If the Chair moves at all you most likely just need a new hand control to correct your problem. Be aware of your chairs serial number, it is always required to find or purchase lift chair parts. Over the years parts like handcontrols, power transformers and lift motors may change. We need your lift chairs serial number to verify each part ordered. If the manufactures tag is not located on one of the rear legs, turn the chair on its side and inspect the metal or wood frame for tag with manufactures name, model number and serial number. Simple and easy to use with fast and excellent results that will last. Save money and repair it yourself. Easy fitting in under 10 minutes with no experience required. The tutorial showing how to install the part was easy to follow. I now have a recliner that reclines. Thanks Sofa Rehab! Quick delivery and the product did exactly as described thoroughly recommend this company! It was for mums chair and she lives in a nursing home with high needs so it was great to get the right chair part so quickly and easily It is very good. Follow the instruction and wait for the leather to dry properly before proceeding to the next step. Website instructions make measuring the cable length incredibly simple. Very happy with the product. Would highly recommend. He purchased it and it worked a treat. They came up like new. I had two leather bar stools that are very good quality. However they had varnishing stains that soaked into the leather stools. I purchased the product and just finished them yesterday. It was good fun. I will give them another coat in 2 weeks. Great, quick service. Very good price on recliner parts After researching the Australian websites I gave SofaRehab a ring. Speaking directly with someone is hard to do these days. I received excellent advice and even saved myself money. I ended up having to buy less than I thought of the different products. My lounge was of good quality but the colour had been faded by the sun in places, there were patches of wear and what I call crazing. They sent 3 leather colour samples through first by post. The closest match wasn't what I would have chosen. The fixer and colourant were easy to apply and I needed 3 coats. The end result is excellent.
